"So as you go to find
yourself,
Don't look too hard,
You may pass yourself
by,
Reaching too high,
Wanting the other side of life."

"And as you go to take
your place,
Don't go too fast,
Just pretend there's no
end,
Make yourself last
Till the other side of life."

"One day you'll find Your restless
searching at an end,
You'll think the world
has changed
But it's just you my friend."

"So as you go to please
your heart
Please take your time,
Someone's waiting
there too,
Waiting for you
On the other side of life."

1978 LEGEND QUEEN

Shelly Guimond

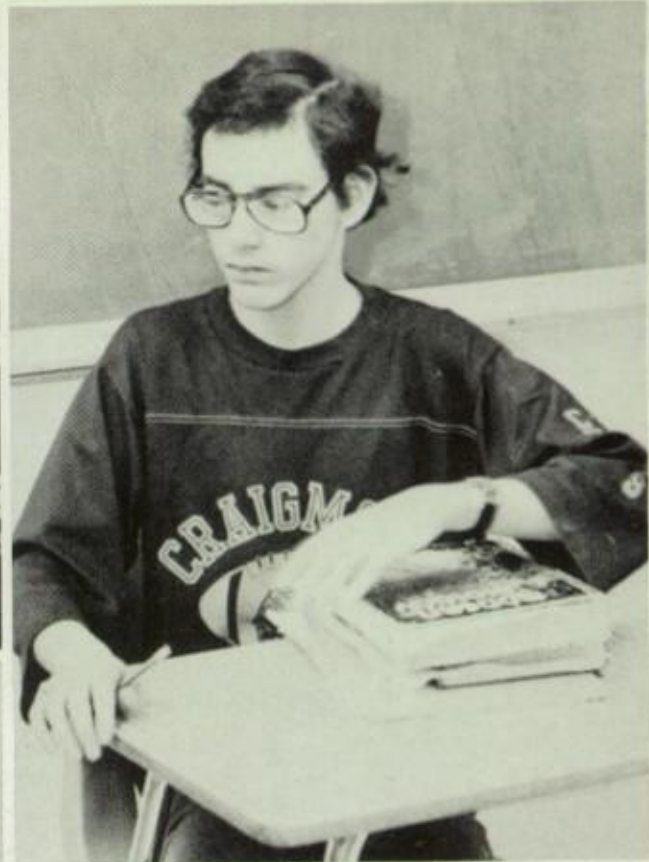

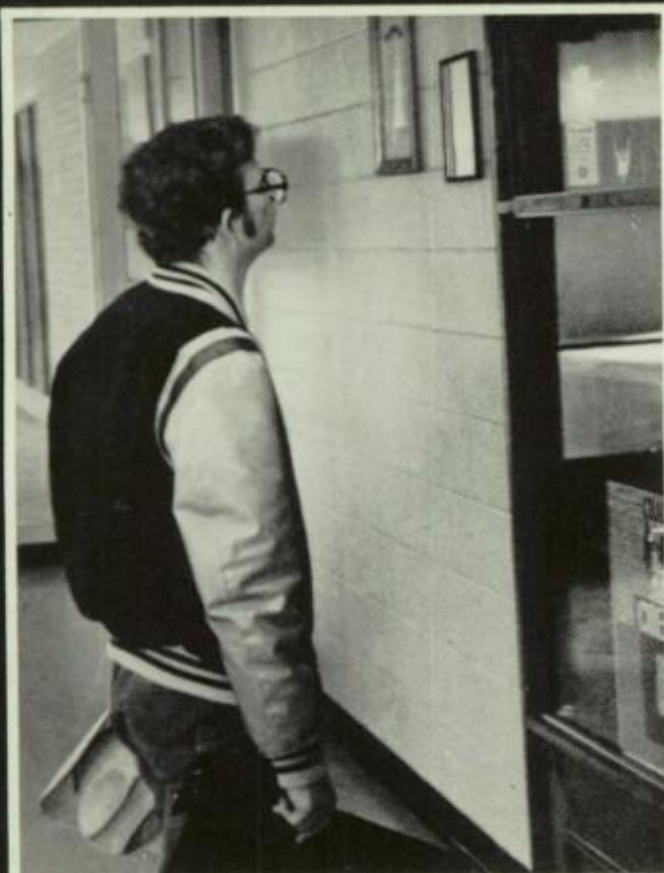

Shelly Guimond received the title of the 1978 Legend Queen during pageant festivities. Pat Wilson modeled her evening gown while the escorts — Claude Hendrickson, Jim Freeman, Ken Shew, and Steve Toler along with the emcee — Vaun Smith, looked on.

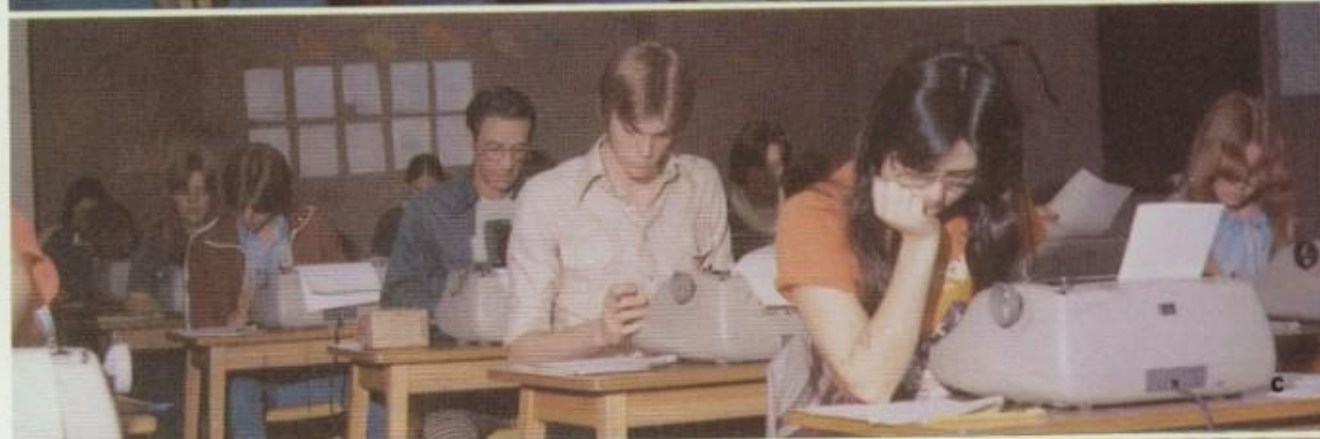

Lisa Elkins demonstrated her talent not only in acrobatics but also in selling over $600 in advertising. The five finalists in the 1978 Legend Queen contest were — Valerie Kissel, Tammy Cavagnaro, Shelly Guimond, Lisa Elkins, and Leslie Seagle. The other contestants were — Karen Monteath, Julie Troyer, Sheryl Jones, Connie Davenport, Pam Street, Linda Summerlin, Mary Witherspoon, Nila Kirsch, Dana Shipman, Robbin Carter, Ivonne Larose, and Pat Wilson.

STUDENT LIFE

a To perfect their skill in Spanish, Daun Moon, Ruth Green, and Ross Braswell drilled with flashcards. b Kathy DeWitt, the 1977 homecoming queen, paused momentarily for a picture. c Practicing constantly, Dane Richardson and Debra Griggs eventually gained much of the typing skill they strove for. d Lead by Coach Ricky Sullivan, the girls basketball team had a wonderful season and rose to the sub-state tournament. (front row) Angela Buchanan, Kathy MacPherson, Lori Pesce, Melanie Stephenson, Jewnell Fisher, and Inette Rhodes. (top row) Coach Sullivan, Paula Steingas, Julie Bowen, Donna Rhodes, Penny Leatherman, Vicki Gauthreaux, Traci Hart, and Karen Hammons. e Mr. Atkins instructed Jeff Winstead on the fine points of using the driving simulator. f Keith Gosset performed excellently in the P.T.A. variety show. g One night from 9:00 pm to 6:00 am WQOX was manned by a prominent HOSA executive. h Cheerleading held many lighter moments for Jamie McMillan and Julie Pledger. i. Through an intense exhibition of spirit, the Junior class won the spirit jug. j Roger Sigler and Kendall Craft consistently worked towards accurate typing.

Spirit Week, sponsored by the cheerleaders, generated enthusiasm throughout the entire school. Students and teachers supported the various Homecoming activities which included masquerading for Halloween Day, selling pom-poms and pennants, and cheering at the pep rally. A Gong Show was held which consisted of various acts performed by students. The judges, Coach Brock, Dicky "Doo" Edwards, and Ron Olson, chose Todd Groce and the Lone Star Band as the winners.

a Sam Moon attended school dressed as a clown during Halloween Day. b Libby Baumheckel celebrated Chief Day by wearing a Chief's costume. c Karin Bogue participated in Spirit Week by masquerading during Halloween Day. d Janeé Manley showed spirit by participating in Chief Day. e Janet Thedford exhibited her school spirit by selling a pom-pom. f Martha Barrow hit Coach Brock, who was one of the judges, during the Gong Show. g Alicia Dino disguised herself as the masked Kazoo player during the Gong Show. h Spectators at the Gong Show curiously awaited the next act.

The powder puff football game, a switch of roles by the girls and guys, resulted in fierce competition between the Junior and Senior classes. Running the ball with an intense desire for yardage, the Junior girls were victorious.

Every day at Craigmont is a unique experience; each is rewarding for some, burdensome for others. Although studying was our primary objective, all of us needed an outlet for our frustration; each expressed themselves in their own way.

- a The newly inducted DECA officers were: Robbin Carter, Lauri Hopson, Clayton Bustard, Ramona Harris, Pat Wilson, and Bob Toler.
- b Mrs. Clifton enjoyed a visit to the Tearoom.
- c The HOSA club taught Ann Huddleston and Betsy Calkin how to take blood pressure.
- d Approaching the scrimmage line, Angela Buchanan and Ivonne Larose readied for a play.
- e To improve their broadcasting skills, Ronald Jones and Robert Peete practiced at WQOX.
- f Pausing a moment in the hall, Carol Ferguson chatted with friends.
- g David Braun had a unique way of expressing himself at a pep rally.
- h During the eclipse, interested students gathered to view it.

CLOSE ENCOUNTERS OF THE CRAIGMONT KIND

Each day at Craigmont brought new experiences to the students through their participation in various school activities. Even though such activities as pep rallies and playing chess were enjoyable, the most important objective, scholastic achievement, was not overlooked.

Both the scholastic activities and Craigmont's extracurricular experiences combined into an upward spiral in an ever winding staircase. Each spiral helped us achieve the ultimate goal, knowledge.

Depending on how we use this knowledge will determine how we can be Americans who contribute to a better world.

a After new organization, the band rose to the occasion at pep rallies. b At a pep rally skit, sponsored by the cheerleaders, Mike Smith got "creamed." c The library brought more than a solemn book for Debra Griggs and Gale Hollin. d Beverly Jones always had a friendly smile for everyone. e Wanting to do a "bang-up" job, Ronnie Frost resorted to the cymbals. f During the Senior Follies, Valerie Kissel turned into a conehead. g During the speech tournament, Billy Sewell and Shari Magdefrau talked about the results. h Mike Wonsiewicz, Jay Hawkins, and Mr. Rayfield got ready to take a drive.

a Lori MacPherson enjoyed her close encounter of the simulated kind. b Typing the Legend index was the responsibility of Eugenia Alamilla. c Vivian Williamson worked to make her day at the tearoom more successful. d Continuing rehearsals were necessary for Mr. Curtis and the band, but they achieved performing superiority. e Standing at attention, Brock Owens, Tim Walters, Howard McNatt, and Mike Creager were ready for inspection. f Eve Fingerett did some last minute studying before going to class. g While playing her flute, Amy Creel serenaded the audience. h Mike Stallcup was eager to purchase his yearbook in the fall.

Friendship is a man's most vital asset. No matter how high in society's chain we have risen, we still need an outlet for our emotions, problems, and joys.

Since friendship was important to the ancient Greeks thousands of years ago, and since human nature remains constant, we at Craigmont knew how friends and their encouragement were many times our only asset. These assets ranged from solving complex algebra problems to borrowing money for lunch. However insignificant the encouragement seemed, we all benefited from the smiles of our friends who convinced us that we were not islands. In the words of Joan Whitney and Alex Kramer: No man is an island; no man stands alone, Each man's joy is joy to me, each man's grief is my own.

a The library became a gathering place for friends. b Mike Boysen and Jewnell Fisher decided that their friendship was unique. c Looking with interest, Tommy Cook watched the cheerleaders at a pep rally. d While in geometry Don Ketchum worked hard to finish his assignment. e To avoid homework in the afternoon, Danette Oden, Patty O'Connell, and Susan Jackson found study hall to be the place to do extra work. f Typing the copy for the senior section, Michelle Manley worked hard to meet a deadline. g Working in the Tearoom, Martine Larose and Kenneth Thomas prepared the tea for the customers. h Casey Hunt borrowed some money from Ellen Evans for lunch.

Each experience added a new perspective to our memories. Many of the moments spent at Craigmont High have been preserved as memories, never to be forgotten, but always treasured. As the summer drew closer friends began to face the inevitability of parting. The reason the parting was painful was because whether we played, studied, or dreamed of the future, Craigmont students always pulled together for a successful year.

a Sandra Millican worked to complete her assignment. b During the Battle of the sexes, the girls pulled together to beat the boys. c While selling cakes, Toni Whitelow got Kathy Healey and Mrs. Mary Pittman to buy some from her. d Julie Troyer, dressed appropriately for 50's day. e Having lunch was always a chance to fill our stomachs before we went home for dinner. f Learning in school proved to be helpful for Richard Givhan. g Jim Freeman, Claude Hendrickson, Ken Shew, and Steve Toler, LEGEND QUEEN escorts, practiced many times to get their act together. h While holding a spoon, Max Younger tried to keep the potato from falling off.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM

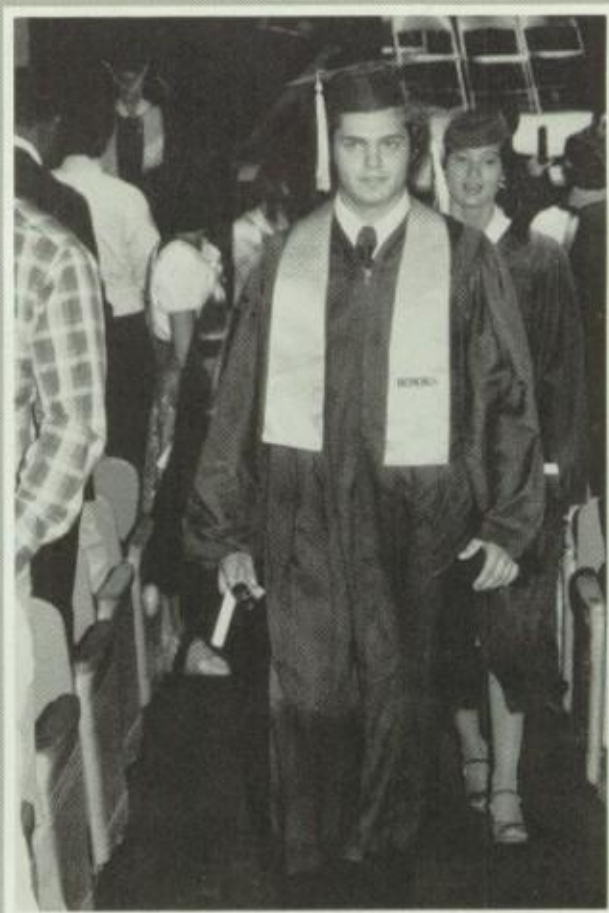

Throughout the year the Junior class worked hard to get the prom ready. Many hours of decorating and preparing were put into "Reflections." The magic date, May 19, 1978, was the result at Holly Hills Country Club with "Natchez" performing.

May 21, 1978, the Seniors gathered for their only inspirational service at Raleigh Baptist Church. The Baccalaureate address, presented by Reverend Hodges brought Seniors closer together as Graduation neared.

BACCALAUREATE

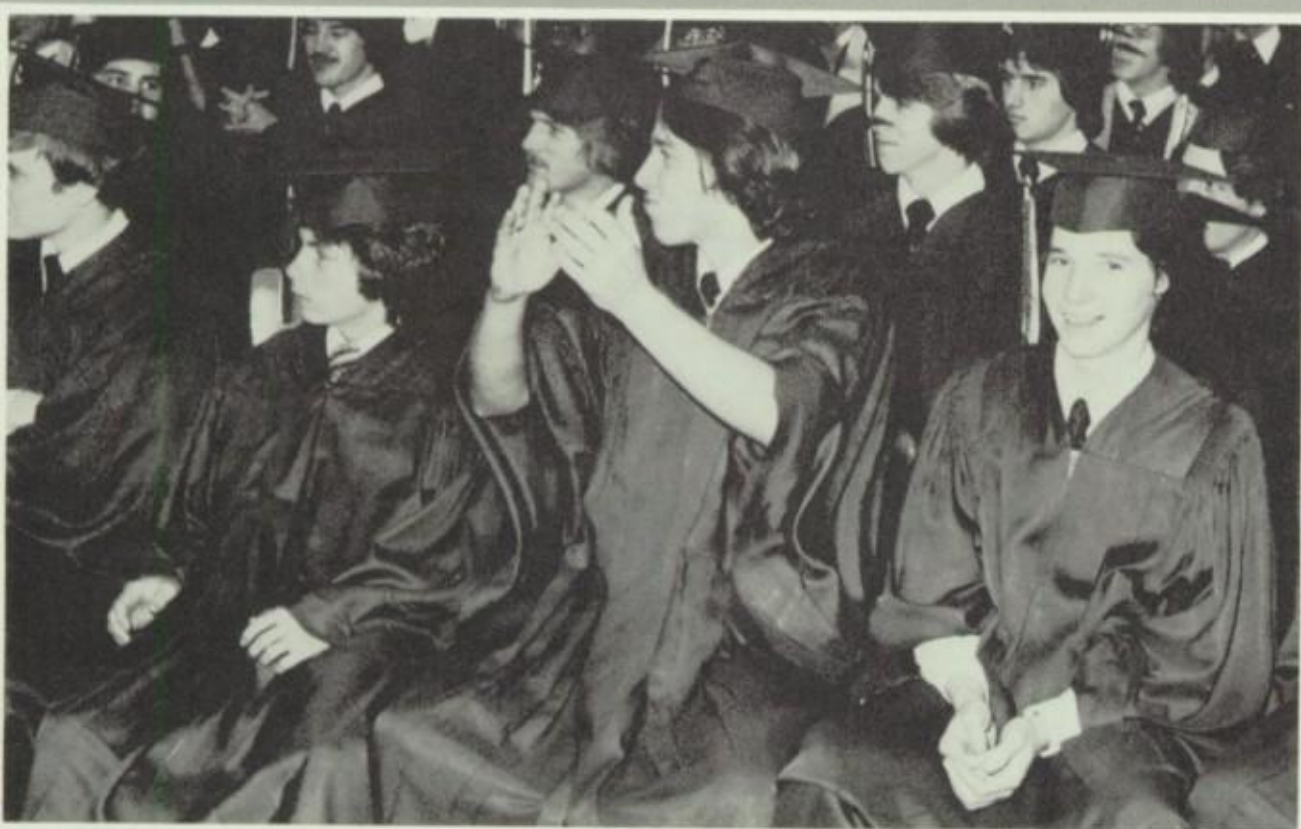

GRADUATION

Graduation was a time of Happiness and Sadness for the time had finally come for each Senior to go their separate ways and follow their dreams. May 22, 1978, at the Music Hall Convention Center was an open door to new Horizons.

BOATRIDE

May 24, 1978, the last time the Class of 1978 would be joined together could not have been a more memorable time. Cruising up the Mississippi on the Memphis Queen, was enjoyed by all as "D.J." Ron Olson provided the musical entertainment.

TEAM MATES

1977 FOOTBALL

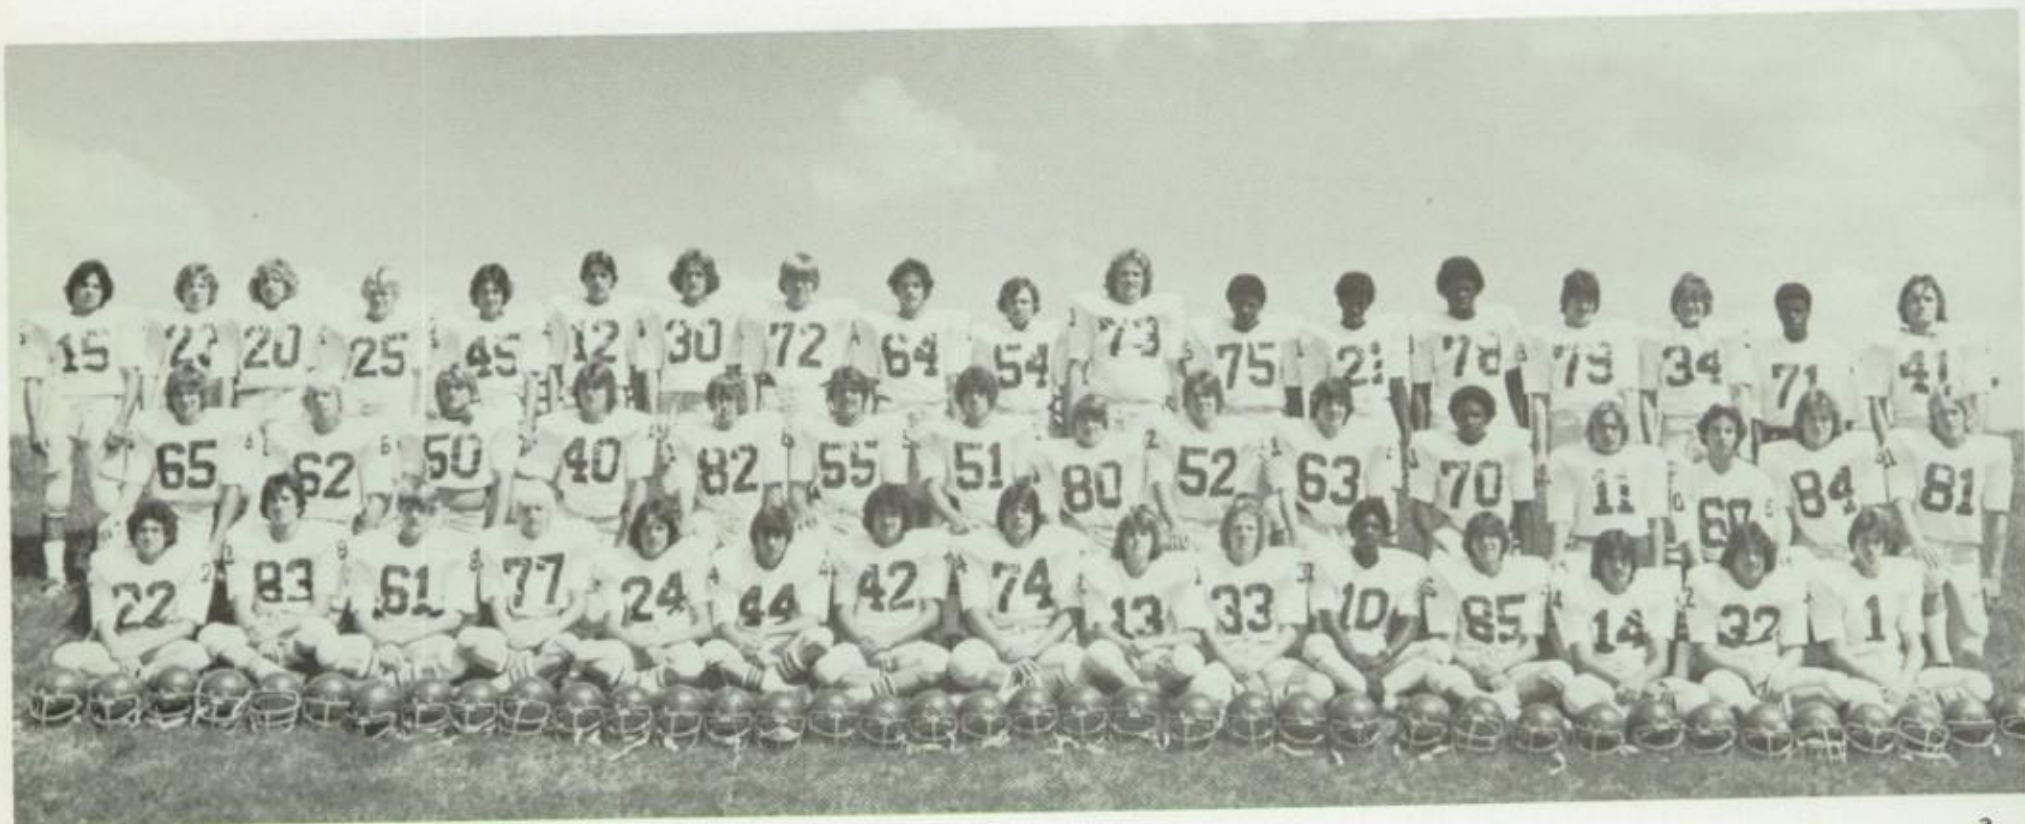

Excitement and anticipation was abundant as the 1977-78 football season got underway. The Chiefs Varsity Football Team exhibited their brute force and cunning tactics as they battled their way through the season.

Spirit and optimism were combined to make the Homecoming game the highlight of the season. A running pass, completed as time ran out, tied the game. Victory was a certainty as the successful Chiefs scored the extra point.

f

The 1978 Edition of Chief Baseball was one that provided opportunities to observe every weird happening in the game. The final season record of 9 wins 15 losses could have been very easily reversed as the Chiefs lost several low scoring games. But for the lack of a timely hit or a queer bounce of the ball, the Chiefs could have been big winners. We are going to miss the contributions of Myers, Drewry, Willis, and Thomas next year. All four played three years for the Chiefs. We are expecting great things out of a solid pitching staff of Knight, Turner, and Perritt in reversing the slide of this years club.

BASEBALL

EVERYDAY LIFE

Student life has many facets. Scholastic achievement was a primary objective, but along with academic skills, the students found time to develop their musical and athletic abilities.

Although academic activities were pressing, time was always found for relaxing with administrators and friends.

a Mark Brown, Wertice Clark, Gerald Goode, and Benny Richard were more interested in the camera than the pep rally. b Jennifer Sullivan, along with the string section, complimented the over-all musical program at Craigmont. c In the locker room, Tracy Pittman, Patrick Hicks, Phillip Haney, and Tony Wilson found time for lighter moments. d During the Battle of the Classes competition, Beverly Bush, Sara Kent, and Renae O'Neill cheered for their team. e Keith Eddlemon worked hard at his desk preparing for a test. f Mr. Smith told Julie Fortuck of a new school event, while Pat Winstead waited his turn. g Allison O'Steen could afford to smile at her locker, since an avalanche did not occur when it was opened. h For Cedric Van Hooks, lunch was an enjoyable time. i Bill Rhodes and Darryl Willis were totally involved with watching their team.

ONE DAY AT A TIME

Teamwork, individual competence, and self expression are all involved in the beneficial experiences of the day-to-day routine at Craigmont. Academics, sports and music, or even a talk on the phone, all make the day complete at Craigmont.

a Mark Elkins and Lisa Cara were busily engaged in their reading assignment. b Coach Medley put his early morning P.E. class to work. c Mrs Estes' class seemed to have found the lecture interesting. d Dribbling down the court to score another goal. e Roderick Jones and Keith Coleman showed their spirit at the game. f Wandra Neely took time to complete her studies before the bell rang. g Mrs. Taylor's music class joined together in harmony. h Steve Blurton found a mid-day phone call quite interesting.

CHRISTMAS AT CRAIGMONT

Christmas at Craigmont has become a tradition incorporating the talents of practically every department. This year we donated a record number of gifts to the Goodfellows' Toys for Tots campaign; had a beautiful tree; a door decorating contest; an unusual yet effective and appropriate play; and of course, a visit from Santa. This Christmas at Craigmont was truly one of the best and biggest ever.

a Mr. Kirkland continued to amaze us with his talent at the keyboard. b Ricky Landry put the finishing touches on one of the props for the Christmas program. c The speech department presented a play demonstrating the ideals of the meaning of Christmas. d Santa, as usual was a big hit. e-f-g-h John Manley, Ulysses Jamerson, Dean Harvey, and Dan Ball helped paint trees for a White Christmas. i Helping their homeroom win first place, 9th grade level in the door decorating contest were Frances Greene, Rita Claxton, and Ruth Greene. j 7-8 won the contest on the 7th grade level for Mrs. Wages. k Gary Hunt and other 8-7 members won the contest on the 8th grade level. l Mark Stallcup put the last ornament on the tree.

SOMETHING EXTRA

Some of the highlights featured at Craigmont this year were the modernized shop facilities, the library providing an excellent selection of books, the concession stand, and the Corner Tea-room where the teachers enjoyed a meal prepared by the high school home economic students.

ALL IN A DAYS WORK

Craigmont students put in a long day by being involved with their studies as well as school activities.

a During American History, JoAnn Jefferies, Shawna Lofton and Bridget Brown were busily working. b One of the 9th grade cheerleaders showed her school spirit at a pep rally. c Kevin Cory found time during the day to use the scaffold to inspect one of the newly painted walls. d Some 9th grade students stopped by the water fountain to take a drink before their next class. e Donald Johnson took time out to give one of his many facial expressions. f Liz Lees, an honor student, spoke at the annual Christmas-at-Craigmont program. g The Student Council officers elected for the 77-78 school year were: Craig Hopson, Ricky Ralston, Bruce Garrett, Elsie Anderson, Sherri Henley, Robin Clark, and DeDe Sage. h The members of the communications panel helped to sponsor many activities for the students. i Jr. Red Cross members worked hard throughout the year helping others.

TOM SAWYER

"Tom Sawyer" came to Craigmont in the fall — courtesy of the seventh grade choir under the capable direction of Mrs. Sharon Hill. The stage was filled with sunflowers, skeletons, and other appropriately spooky apparitions, and of course, Tom, Huck, Becky, Aunt Polly, and Sid.

Many hours of rehearsing, painting, building sets, and memorizing script were rewarded by a performance enjoyed by participants and audience alike.

a Valerie Reynolds, Natalie Caciola, and Paula Harris worked on their group assignment for C.L.U.E. b Miss Debra Jones explained the English assignment for the day. c To enhance the Halloween spirit, the art students in Mrs. Shirley Lile's class decided to make a facial mask. d A full bicycle rack was an essential element of the Craigmont scene. e Cynthia Giliham stopped by a door to talk with some friends. f Lynn McMillian worked on decorations for the Christmas program. g Christia Hendrickson stopped in the hall long enough to clean out her folder.

INFORMAL DINING

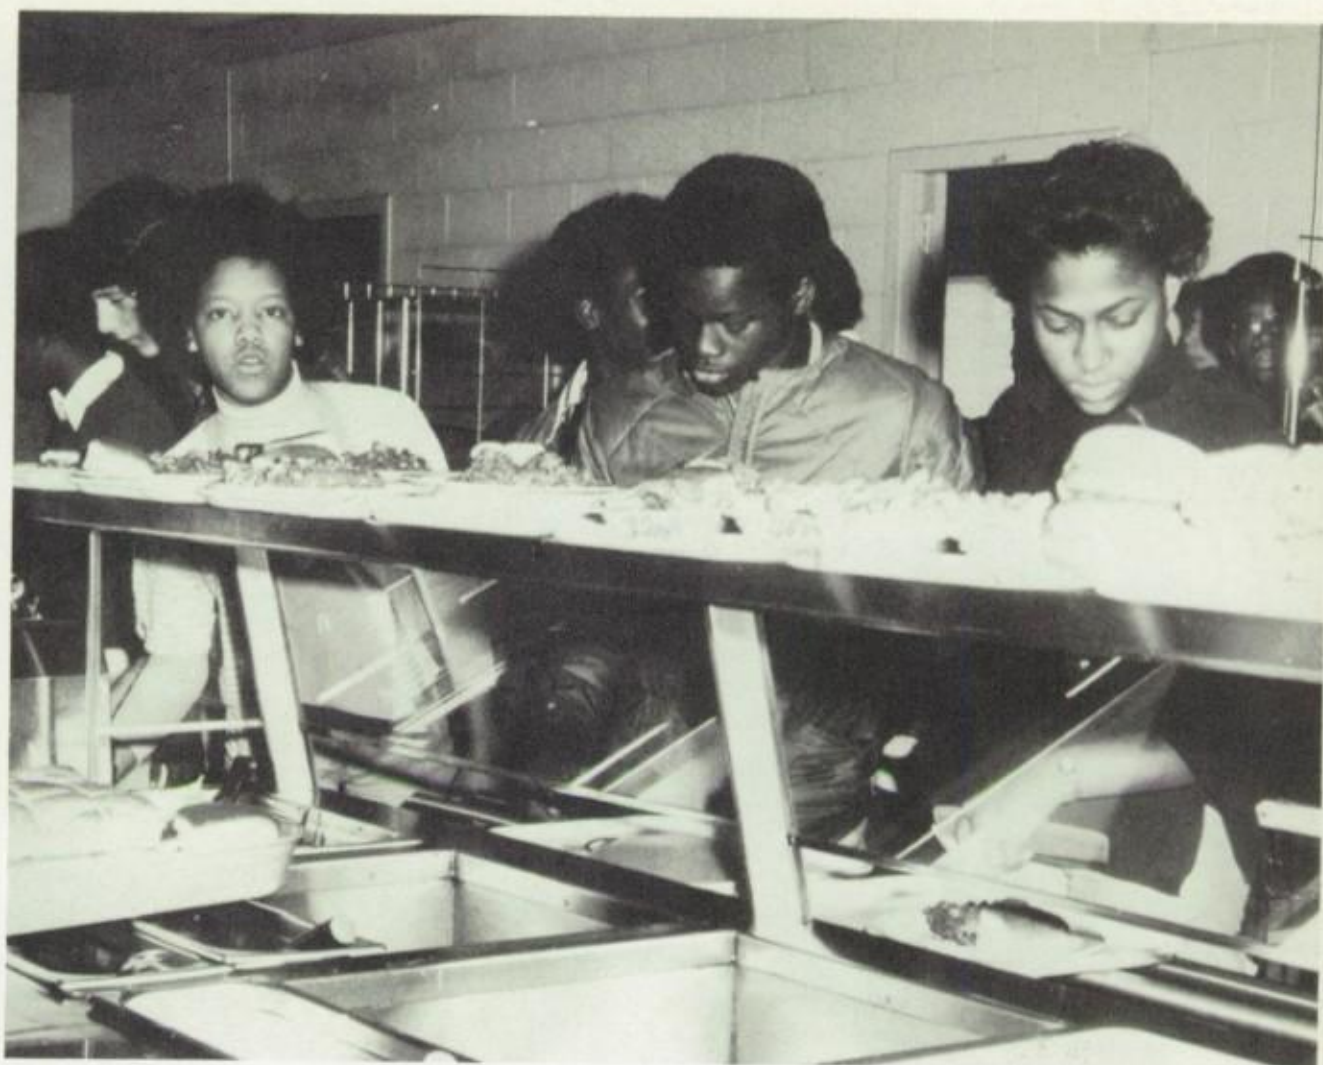

In addition to academic studies, we can always find time to squeeze in a pep rally or two plus a trip to the cafeteria to enjoy visiting with our friends, catching up on all the local gossip, and sometimes to eat! The pep rally was a chance to demonstrate some good school spirit and let off a little steam.

a These seventh graders are really enjoying their lunch. b Alan Tipton and Ronald Harris tried to satisfy the machine's appetite for quarters. c The students always seemed to have fun at pep rallies. d Beverly Bush and Sherri Greene took a picture break after lunch. e Kevin Yarbough counted his leftover lunch money. f Everyday in the lunchroom meant going through the line to get lunch or seeing what mom packed in the little brown bag. g Jeffery Nickelberry waited for his lunch. h Jody Walker showed her spirit at the Battle of the Classes game.

On May 9, three bus loads of excited eighth graders, along with some teachers and parents, made their annual pilgrimage to Washington D.C.

Before reaching Washington, the busses stopped first at Gatlinburg for a break and then at Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson.

Two days in Washington allowed time to visit the capital, the White House, both Lincoln and Jefferson Memorials, the Washington monument, and the National Zoo where the panda bears were viewed.

The busses were loaded at 5 o'clock from Washington to return to Craigmont parking lot at 12:30 p.m. the next day with a non-stop journey.

THE EDUCATORS

THE EDUCATORS

Craigmont, like any other school, is only as good as its staff — administration, faculty and office personnel. Our staff is loyal, cooperative, and understanding as well as deeply involved with extracurricular activities in addition to regular teaching and administrative responsibilities.

YEARBOOK

a, b Homerooms 9-2 and 9-6 showed their school spirit by having the most people in their room to buy a yearbook.

These students will have a special "Memory Book" to recapture the days and events in their lives at Craigmont.

c, d, e, f The yearbook staff was a vital part of the yearly routine with taking, developing, and printing hundreds of pictures; working months on layouts, and countless hours of copywriting and proofreading. The final reward came when the 1977-78 LEG-END was delivered to Craigmont.

JUNIOR HIGH STAFF

Anita Hopper, Caron Blurton, Stephanie Summerlin, Kitty Waldrip and Brent Baskin.

Choose the Skill That's Right for You

Make what could be the all important decision of your life. The Marines offer you the chance to train in a skill that can lead you into a good job. Here are a few of the many programs we offer:

- Aircraft Maintenance Ordnance
- Aviation Administration and Support
- Aviation Technology
- Administration
- Mechanical/Electrical
- Military Police and Corrections

- Electronics
- Radio Communications
- Combat Arms
- Combat Support
- Food Services
- Supply, Logistics and Disbursing

You will earn as you learn. Your starting pay as a recruit goes up as you advance in skills and rank. And your pay will go a long way, because the Marines take care of your basic needs — housing, food, and uniforms. You'll have medical and dental care. These are expenses you'd have to pay for yourself out of a civilian salary.

Don't settle for just any job.
Go beyond the present horizons of your life.
Be a leader of men —
one of the few and the proud — a Marine.

EDITORS' LAST WORDS

As we reflect on the yearbook, it is difficult to express in words what it really means to us. It was a big relief sending in the last pages and knowing we have finally accomplished what we started so many months ago. We would like to thank our dedicated staff and our terrific sponsors who's combined effort and determination made the 1978 Legend possible.

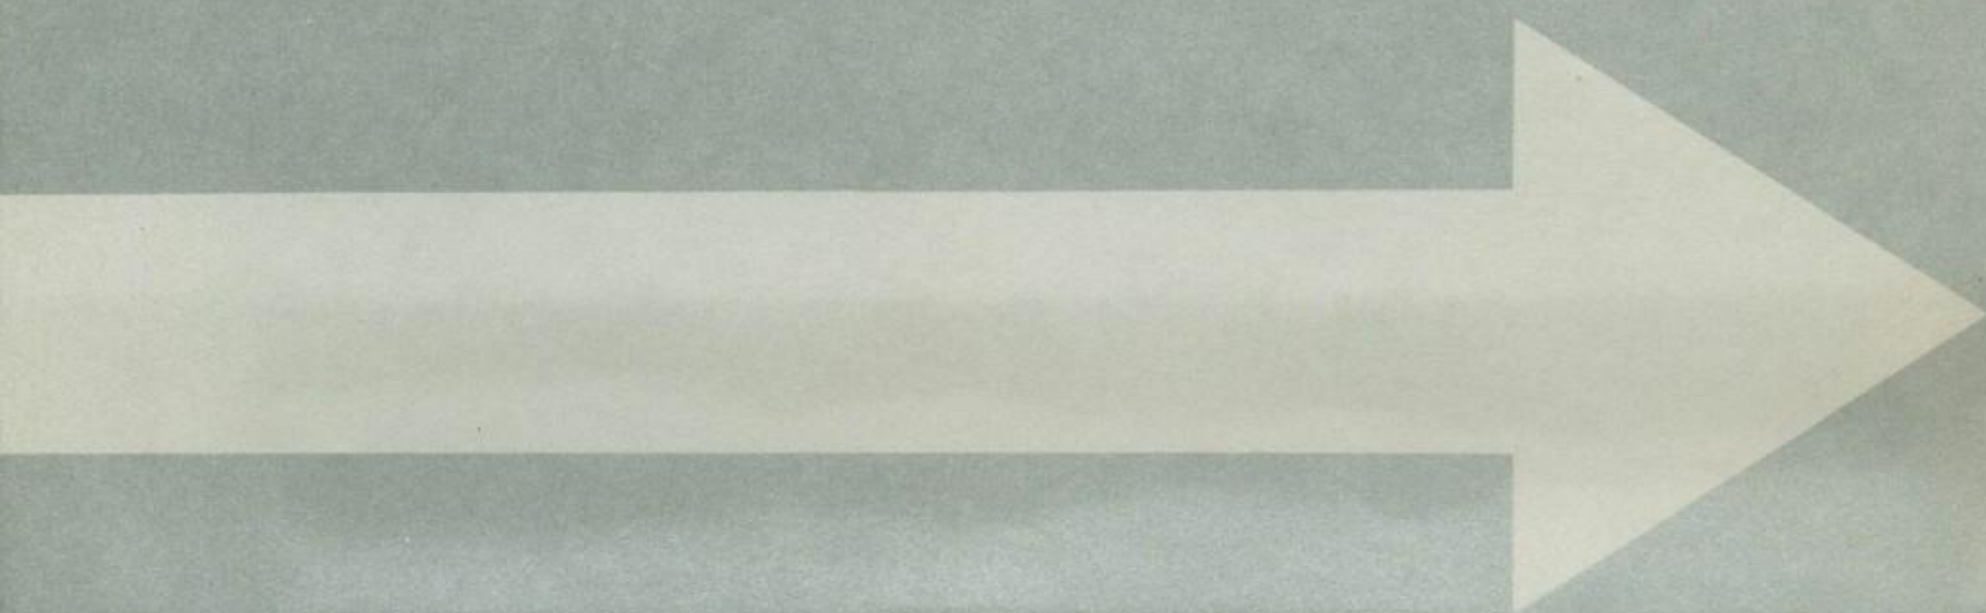

We started the year with big dreams and saw these dreams fulfilled with the help of Craigmont students. Because of Senior Follies, Legend Queen, and Tom Sawyer the 1978 Legend has 24 pages of color. Another aspect of our dreams is the use of the arrow. This arrow theme symbolizes the students constantly pressing onward to new and exciting horizons.

We hope that you enjoy the Legend and that it will bring you many happy memories of the 1978 year.
